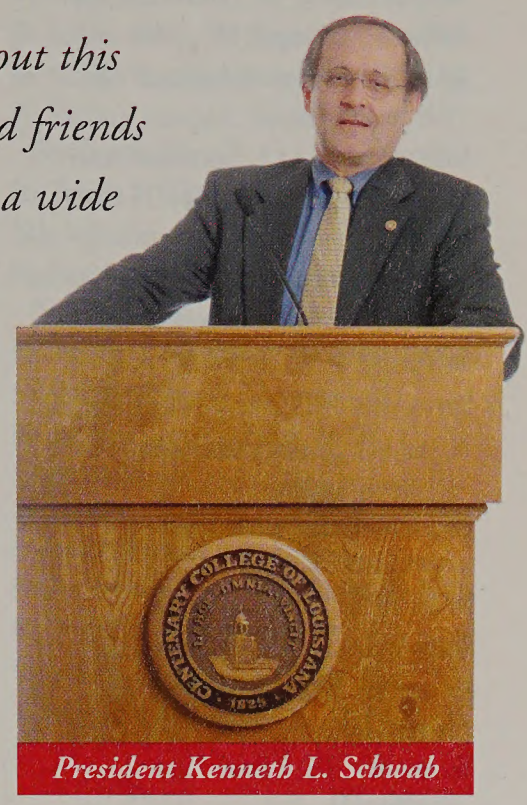
As you can see from the photos below and throughout this publication, Centenary students, faculty, staff and friends come in a variety of sizes and shapes and pursue a wide range of interests. The words accompanying the photos point out that Centenary family members have unique dreams and goals and have accomplished much. Together these words and pictures form our annual "family portrait," a retrospective of the last academic year completed at Centenary College of Louisiana, now celebrating its 180th year.

The President's Annual Report reviews some of the highlights of the 2003-04 year. Many of the accomplishments listed here were made possible by those whose names are included in the Honor Roll of Donors section. It is one way we recognize and thank our many loyal supporters who contribute to scholarships, to the Great Teachers and Scholars Fund and to so many other Centenary needs.

Our sincerest thanks and congratulations are extended to all those chronicled herein.



President Kenneth L. Schwab

National & International Recognition

Residence Life Captures School of Year, 2 Other National Awards. Centenary students and programs earned three major national awards, including School of the Year, from the National Association of College and University Residence Halls. The other major awards, among the 11 given annually, were the Distinguished Service Award and the Building Block National Residence Hall Honorary Chapter of the Year.

National Report Lauds Centenary's Study Abroad Program. A national report highlighted in the Chronicle of Higher Education listed Centenary No. 3 among the nation's master's institutions with highest percent of undergraduates studying abroad.

Centenary Continues Among Nation's "Best Colleges." Centenary was named a "best value" among Southern universities by U.S. News and World Report in its 16th annual "America's Best Colleges" survey. In 2003-04, Centenary was among the Top 10 in the South in the listing of "Best Universities-Master's." In a separate listing of great schools at great prices, U.S. News ranked Centenary at No. 7 among the South's "Best Values." Several other national publications included Centenary among their listings of the nation's best, including the Princeton Review's Best 345 Colleges and Barron's Best Buys in College Education.

Society of Physics Students Chosen among Nation's Top 10 Percent. The American Institute of Physics recognized Centenary's chapter of the Society of Physics Students (SPS) as an Outstanding SPS Chapter. Fewer than 10 percent of the 760 chapters nationwide received the honor.

Play Makes it to Kennedy Center Regional Competition. Marjorie Lyons Playhouse's The Beauty Queen of Leenane was selected by the Committee on the Kennedy Center American College Theatre Festival as one of seven productions to compete at the regional festival in February.

Chemistry Club among 29 in Nation Named "Outstanding" by ACS. The American Chemistry Society has once again designated Centenary's Chemistry Club as an outstanding club. Only 29 clubs out of over 900 in the nation were placed in this highest category of recognition based on the number and diversity of the activities during the 2002-03 academic year. This is the third consecutive year the Centenary organization has received an outstanding distinction and the seventh consecutive year it has received a national award.

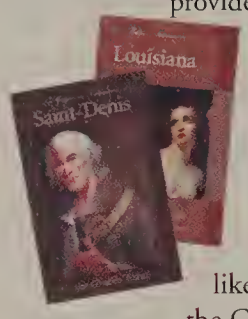
2003-04 Highlights

Recognition of Activities Related to Jack London. Twice in 2003-04 Centenary received prominent international recognition of activities related to Jack London scholarship. In separate editions of the Jack London Foundation Quarterly Newsletter, student Katie Haston authored a leading front-page essay and Dr. Earle Labor's "Centennial Tribute to American's Greatest World Novel" was a front-page feature. In addition, three Centenarians contributed to the English edition of Russian author Dr. Vil Bykov's personal memoir, In the Steps of Jack London. Julia Istomina of the Class of 1998, assisted with the translation, Dr. Labor served as a co-editor and Becky Palmer, secretary for the Humanities Division, provided secretarial assistance.



Acclaim for Centenary College Heritage Language Project. Operating much like a university press, the Centenary Heritage Language Project resurrected important works of Louisiana's cultural heritage and published them in their original language. A dozen books—ten in French and two in German—are being produced with funding from the Louisiana Board of Regents and other contributions to the Department of Ancient and Foreign Languages, with Centenary students heavily involved in various aspects of the book projects. Dr. Dana Kress noted that in 2003-04 the project represented the largest single printing of French in the United States since the Louisiana Purchase in 1803.

Fulbright Scholarship, Rhodes Finalist. Kristopher Franks, a double major in business and German, who graduated two years ago, was awarded a Fulbright grant to study in Germany in 2004-05. He is planning to complete a master's in business in Dresden. Senior Kathryn Thompson was a candidate for a Rhodes Scholarship.

Choir Selected for National Performance. The Centenary Choir performed in April before the General Conference of the United Methodist Church in Pittsburgh, Pa. The Choir was featured on KTBS-TV prior to departing for the prestigious appearance.

Institutional Achievements, Honors

Louisiana Patron of Architecture Award. Centenary received the Louisiana Architectural Foundation's Patron of Architecture Award. The College was recognized for having played a "significant leadership role for almost 100 years in local architecture through the development of a 65-acre campus known for stately buildings, beautifully landscaped grounds and innovative spaces." The foundation noted specifically five Centenary projects completed or planned in recent years: Rotary Hall Suites, the Fitness Center, Anderson Choral Building, Feazel Instrumental Hall and Hurley Music Building renovations; Peters Building/William Joyce offices renovation; and the proposed renovations and expansions of the Moore Student Union Building and Mickle Hall of Science.

Mid-Continent Athletic Conference Play Begins, Softball Wins Championship. It was an exciting year for athletics, as each team began its first competition in the Mid-Continent Conference. Centenary's Softball Team won the College's first Mid-Continent Conference championship of any kind and the first bid into an NCAA tournament. The Women's Soccer Team and the Men's Basketball team also made conference tournaments. Centenary athletes claimed several All-Conference Honors and one, Andrew Wisniewski, was chosen Louisiana Player of the Year. Excitement in this area also surrounded games the Gents played against in the LSU Tigers: in basketball at the CenturyTel Center and in baseball at Fair Grounds Field.

Ladies Gymnastics Captures USAG Title. The Centenary Ladies gymnastics team finished the regular season ranked first in the USAG standings, sent an individual to an NCAA regional and won a USAG National Championship this year, all for the first time. Two gymnasts won individual championships: Kristina Menne in the all-around and Jennie Jackson on the uneven bars, marking the first time Centenary has had two national champions in the same year.

Five $100,000 Endowed Professorships Approved by Regents. In September 2003, the Louisiana Board of Regents presented matching funds to complete $500,000, which funds five Irene K. Wright Endowed Professorships in Mathematics.

Third Nan Christian Scholars. Four first-year students received the full-tuition, room and board Nan Christian scholarships in Fall 2003. Following a weekend of interviews in spring 2004, four more recipients were selected from a field of 41 applicants.

Publications Earn Recognition. "Best of Print" was the honor bestowed upon Centenary's recruiting magazine Centenary: Make a Difference in the annual competition of the Shreveport-Bossier Advertising Federation. In addition, the Annual Report from the President 2001-02 earned a Gold Award in its category. Centenary's Kudos publication, which chronicles faculty achievements, received an Award of Excellence from the Council for the Advancement and Support of Education, District IV.

Facilities, Program Improvements

Wright Math Building. The College purchased the former Baptist Student Center on Woodlawn Street and renovated it in preparation for the beginning of the 2004-05 year. The project was made possible by a bequest from Mrs. Irene K. Wright, who credited a 1930s-era Centenary mathematics professor with making her college career possible.

Center for Family-Owned Business Begins. The Frost School of Business has launched a new center that is developing programs relevant to the continuity and health of the family business in the region. Education and training programs focus on strategic planning, growth strategies, succession planning, and the legal, management and financial issues that are unique to the family-owned enterprise.

Frost School of Business Grants Bring New Facilities. Thanks to three Louisiana Board of Regents' grants totaling over $200,000 and the generosity of Centenary alumni, Frost School of Business classroom space now features wireless, state-of-the-art facilities that address today's rapidly changing business needs. A multimedia center and a new "smart" classroom in economics were added to the securities markets trading room and smart classroom for finance and accounting. The new wireless network of laptops, rich databases and leading analytic software provide a premiere learning experience.

George D. Nelson, Sr. Board Room Named. The Centenary Board of Trustees, in memory of 30-year chairman George D. Nelson, Sr., voted to name the Hamilton Hall Board Room in honor of the late Dr. Nelson.

Special Programs, Events

14th Annual Corrington Award for Literary Excellence. The winner of the 2003-04 Corrington Award for Literary Excellence was Irish poet Michael Longley, who accepted the award and read from his work in November. His wife, Edna, a noted literary and cultural critic, also spoke, as the two spent a week on campus as Attaway Fellows in Civic Culture. A new dimension to the Corrington event was a roundtable discussion on Longley's adaptations of Homer, with the roundtable streamed live to other Associated Colleges of the South participating in the Sunoikisis Program.

Centenary Celebrates Centennial of The Call of the Wild. The 100th anniversary of the publication of Jack London's classic The Call of the Wild prompted several events commemorating the centennial. Among them were a special exhibit at the Meadows Museum, curated by Dr. Earle Labor, noted London scholar from Centenary, and several special lectures, starting with remarks by alumna Dr. Jeanne Campbell Reesman at President's Convocation.

Theatre Presents Variety. Marjorie Lyons Playhouse presented The Beauty Queen of Leenane, Women Behind Bars, A Life in the Theatre, The Laramie Project, Verna: USO Girl, The Magic of John Rabenhorst and Gypsy. It also hosted the Louisiana College Theatre Festival, the state competition of theatre productions from Louisiana colleges.

Maroon Jackets Sponsor Day on Campus for Lighthouse Students, MLK Convocation. Members of the Maroon Jackets honor organization hosted a public convocation on Martin Luther King Day. Speaker was Dr. Luther Ivory, a Memphis pastor and professor. Before and after the convocation in Brown Chapel, LightHouse students were treated to a campus tour, lunch and various activities.

President's Convocation Inducts Three Eminent Scholars Chairs. Three new Eminent Scholars Chairs were installed during President's Convocation 2003: Dr. Ronald A. Martin, Albert Sklar Chair in Chemistry; Dr. Cynthia J. Brame, Mattie Allen Broyles Inaugural Year Research Chair; and Dr. David A. Stafford, Bill and Sarah James Chair in Psychology.

Homecoming Weekend Observes Mardi Gras Theme. Students and alumni celebrated together during Homecoming at events planned around a Gents basketball game and local Mardi Gras festivities. Those receiving special honors this year were Dr. Leonard Riggs of Dallas, Alumni Hall of Fame; Bill and Ruth Atkins of Shreveport, Honorary Alumni; Del Threlkeld Harbuck, Alumni Loyalty Award; Professor Derrick Head, Outstanding Teacher Award; and Kim VanHoosier-Carey and Michael Gideon, the President's Award for Excellence.

Church in the 21st Century Series. The Centenary Church Careers Institute and the Theological Center sponsored three programs during 2003-04 dealing with various aspects of the 21st Century Church. Noted author and Drew University professor Leonard Sweet spoke at the program about 21st Century leadership and preaching.

Book Signings on Campus. Authors with Centenary connections graced the campus and signed their books on several occasions. Among them were Dr. Lloyd Halliburton, author of John William Corrington: Reflections; William Joyce, author/illustrator of numerous children's books; and Dr. John Graham, author of Graham Crackers & Milk.

Myriad Speakers, Events. The annual Wideman Piano Competition was held at the Hurley School of Music, with two students from Juilliard winning the 2003 competition. Meadows Museum opened several outstanding exhibits, including the works of Centenary's artist-in-residence, William Joyce. Brown Chapel was packed for the annual Christmas Candlelight Service, Parents and Family Weekend was held in September, and the Admissions Office held two popular Open Houses for prospective students. The 54th anniversary presentation of the Centenary Choir's Rhapsody in View was held in November. President/Student Swap Day was held in October, with senior biophysics major Kathryn Thompson serving as student/president. The 17th annual Centenary Book Bazaar, sponsored by the Centenary Muses, was yet another successful benefit for Centenary students, earning more than $30,000 for the first time. The Bazaar included special recognition of two longtime Bazaar volunteers: Carolyn Clay Flournoy and Bill Garrett. The Social and Philosophical Issues Forum explored the issue of race. The Core Ensemble of Tres Vidas, a chamber music/theater troupe that dramatizes the lives of three famous Latin American women, performed in October in Anderson Auditorium. Centenary alumnus and Grammy Award winner Karl Dent performed in January. The annual Honors Convocation and Student Research Forum were held in April, as was a re-creation of the Kollege Kapers, a variety show that was popular in the 1930s and 1940s, and Centenary's annual Preview Day for admitted students.

Convocations and lectures offer opportunities. Among other speakers this year were former Louisiana Gov. Buddy Roemer, the new chairman of the board for the Forerunners senior adult program; Dr. Lawrence Blum, authority on racism; Peter Busch, a political scientist at Villanova; Lis Harris, author; Sam Green, Attaway Fellow Laura Dunn and Woodrow Wilson Fellow Eric Stange, documentary filmmakers; Donna Ferrato, activist and women's advocate; Jack Gilbert, noted poet; Marcus Borg, best-selling author and theologian, speaking on "The Heart of Christianity;" and a group of Israeli college students.

Outstanding Students, Faculty

Two Among Winners of Student Composition Contest. Andrew Ley and Laura Daigle, both students of Professor Todd Gabriel, earned second and third place, respectively, in the 2004 Student Composition Contest sponsored by the music collaborative of the Associated Colleges of the South.

Wisniewski Honors Pour In. Andrew Wisniewski, a senior from Staten Island, N.Y., established himself as one of the best basketball players in Centenary history, moving into the top five in several career statistical categories. He was voted Louisiana Major College Player of the Year by the Louisiana collegiate coaches and media members, and earned First Team All-Louisiana, All-Conference honors from the Mid-Continent Conference and All-District honors from the National Association of Basketball Coaches.

Journal of Neuroscience Features Faculty Member's Research. In a research article appearing in the Oct. 29, 2003, issue of the prestigious Journal of Neuroscience, Dr. David Coppola, Mary Amelia Douglas-Whited Professor of Neuroscience at Centenary, and his colleagues from the Medical College of Virginia, reported new findings on Fetal Alcohol Syndrome, a major cause of learning and sensory deficits.

The Campaign for Scholarships at Centenary College

To those of you who have stepped forward with early contributions to the Campaign for Scholarships at Centenary, thank you. Your contributions in this first year of the Campaign demonstrate your faith in the College and in our students. With your help, we raised $2,414,886 million for annual and endowed scholarships in the 2003-2004 academic year! We had 475 new donors. Gifts ranged from small (less than $25) to large. For each, we are grateful.

You are the alumni and friends who know that philanthropy brings joy not only to its recipients but also to you, the donors, who have given at the level you deem appropriate. Power to earn is important, but willingness to give is more important. That willingness is the trademark you have claimed, the trademark of people who have learned well the lessons of the liberal arts.

Off to a great start, the Campaign continues. The scholarship goal during the 2004-05 academic year is $2,590,000, including $1,500,000 for annual scholarships and $1,090,000 for endowed scholarships. If all alumni and friends follow the example of the first-year donors and give what they can, we will reach this goal.

Students will have the financial aid they need.

Professors will have the resources they need.

Administrators can say with confidence that our graduates believe Centenary is worthy of their support.

Again, thank you, first-year Campaign donors, for taking the lead. With this publication, we honor you and your fellow philanthropists who have given to many wonderful projects at our beloved Centenary College.

—Dr. Kathy Fell,
Vice President
for Development

Phi Chi Presentation. Senior psychology and sociology major Nate Lucena won first place in the research presentation competition at the 15th annual Texas Christian University Psi Chi Convention.

Undergraduates Present at Federation of Business Disciplines. Five Centenary business students were the only undergraduates among a field of professors and scholars presenting research at the 2004 meeting of the Federation of Business Disciplines in Orlando, Fla. They are Adam Dufour, Yao "Henry" Jin, Ester Seitz, Elliott Grand and Lyndsay Bigler. In addition, a paper by Ms. Bigler and Dr. David Hoaas, professor of economics, was chosen for publication in the Atlantic Economic Journal.

Four Students Present at National American Chemical Society Meeting. Four Centenary students presented research at the National American Chemical Society meeting held in Anaheim, Calif., in March. They are Jeff Broussard, Daniel Do, Nina Fertitta and Christina Taylor.

Four Capture Scholarships for Study in Belgium. When the Belgian government awarded 15 scholarships to Louisiana students for summer 2004 study in Belgium, four Centenary students won in the statewide competition: Scott Lerchie, Ashley Owens, Aaron Elrod and Kelsey Bellamy. In addition, articles by Lerchie and Bellamy appeared in the international journal Fracas, published by the Universite Laval in Quebec.

Four Present at Gender Studies Event in South Carolina. Four Centenary students traveled to South Carolina to present papers at the Associated Colleges of the South Gender Studies Conference hosted by Furman University in March. They are Kristin Cochran, Deb Engle, Katie Howell and Alanna Lewis.

Student-Athlete Selected for NCAA Leadership Conference. Soccer player Greg Clark was selected by the National Collegiate Athletic Association to participate in its annual Leadership Conference at Disney's Wide World of Sports Complex and Coronado Springs Resort in Lake Buena Vista, Fla. The conference is designed to enhance student-athletes' leadership and communication skills to enable them to become more effective leaders and motivators when they return to their campuses.

International Recognition, Jack London Scholarship. Centenary received prominent international recognition via two articles published in separate editions of the Jack London Foundation Quarterly newsletter. The authors were Katie Haston, an English/music major, and Dr. Earle Labor, Wilson Professor of American Literature.

Schmidt Mid-Continent Conference's Female Scholar-Athlete of the Year. Tennis player Anja Schmidt was chosen by the Mid-Continent Athletic Conference for the most prestigious individual honor given by the league—in recognition of performance in athletic competition and in the classroom. She and Justin Langan of Western Illinois University were selected by the conference's faculty athletic representatives as the female and male recipients of the 2003-04 Mid-Continent Conference Scholar-Athletes of the Year designation.

History Students' Works Earn Honors. Centenary history students Joel Hoffman and Elizabeth Glassell and alumnus Charlie Starnes won first, second and third place, respectively, in the undergraduate category of the Overdyke Awards of the North Louisiana Historical Association.

First Conducting Recital by Student. The first conducting recital by a student was held Dec. 12, 2003, with senior Taylor Davis conducting music from Bach to Robert Ray's Gospel Mass.

Faculty Member is Fulbright Scholar. Dr. Robert Bareikis, professor of German and former provost, received a Fulbright grant to do research on Hans Grohs, a German expressionist artist and poet on whom he has been working for several years and whose works were exhibited at the New Orleans Museum of Art recently. Dr. Bareikis was a participant in the exhibit and co-author of the exhibition catalog. The Bauhaus Museum in Weimar, Germany, is preparing an exhibition of Grohs' work in 2005-06, and Dr. Bareikis, who retired from Centenary in May 2004, has been invited to assist in this effort.

Research Leads to New Edition. Dr. Thomas Stone, associate professor of music, spent time at the Library of Congress examining the composer's ink score to Suite in D by Arthur Bird. His study resulted the decision by E. F. Kalmus to publish Dr. Stone's new edition of the work, based on his findings. In addition, he has finished a new composition for the University of Kansas Wind Ensemble.

FINANCIAL SUPPORT, ENDOWMENTS

Fund-raising activities. Investments continue in scholarships, endowed chairs and professorships, and to support the excellence of the College. Over $4.6 million was raised in 2003-04, including over $2.3 million in annual giving. Five endowed professorships in mathematics were funded at $100,000 each.

The College launched the Campaign for Scholarships, which was prompted by the impact the economy has had on students and their families. The goal is to build on the endowment for scholarships so that students can enroll in Centenary in good and bad economic times. It focuses on strengthening the General Annual Scholarship Fund, the General Endowed Scholarship Fund, Named Annual Scholarships and Named Endowed Scholarships.

Tuition Stays the Same. The College chose to keep 2004-05 tuition the same as in 2003-04, in an attempt to contain costs to students and their families.

Highest Number of Gifts Ever for Annual Scholarships. Fiscal Year 2003-04 ended with the College receiving the highest total number of gifts for annual scholarships in its recorded history.

The total given for the Annual Fund, which includes the Great Teachers and Scholars Fund and annual scholarships, and endowed scholarships was almost $4.2 million, only $400,000 short of an aggressive goal set late in the year. There were 475 donors last year, which comprises 19 percent of the donors in 2004.

Alumni Launch National Leadership Board. The Office of Alumni Relations has coordinated the formation of a new National Alumni Leadership Board. It has adopted a structure that includes an Executive Board, revitalized chapters in several cities, and a set of committees headed by team leaders from throughout the country.

GOVERNOR CANDIDATES, SUPREME COURT COME TO THE CENTENARY CAMPUS IN 2003-04

Gubernational Candidates Debate in Live, Televised Event. Centenary was the site on Nov. 2, 2003, for a live televised debate between the final two candidates for Louisiana governor, Kathleen Blanco and Bobby Jindal. The debate was sponsored by the Council for a Better Louisiana and Louisiana Public Broadcasting and was broadcast statewide over the LPB network and numerous Public Radio stations.

Louisiana Supreme Court Hears Actual Cases on Campus. The Louisiana Supreme Court held court at Centenary as part of an ongoing effort to educate and inform students and the general public about the work of the Court. The Court heard oral arguments on five pending cases while an audience of public school and college students, faculty and the general public observed in the auditorium of the Marjorie Lyons Playhouse. Justice Jeffrey Victory of Shreveport, who is a Centenary alumnus, coordinated the court's appearance on campus.
